3. The Faculty may review decisions and actions by the FCCP and other standing committees of the College provided that a petition requesting such action has been signed by at least eight faculty members representing at least half the units of the College and presented to the chairperson of FCCP for placement on the agenda.

4. There shall be Graduate Faculty Council. It shall consist of directors of graduate studies from each unit, the college representative to the Graduate Faculty Senate, and the Associate Dean for Research and Graduate Studies. Actions of the committee shall be consonant with the philosophies and principles of the bylaws of the Graduate Faculty Senate of the University of Missouri-Columbia.

2.5 The FCCP and other standing committees of the College shall report their actions to the Faculty by posting the minutes of their meetings on the College Faculty website within five working days of the last meeting. The Promotion and Tenure Committee is the exception to this rule. They post minutes regarding discussion of procedural matters but not of discussion of personnel matters.

B. To help safeguard the interests of the College and the integrity of rank and tenure standards.
C. To review the credentials and accompanying recommendations of faculty already on appointment who are being considered for promotion in rank or appointment to tenure status and formulate a committee recommendation in support of, or in opposition to, the proposed action.
D. To review the credentials and accompanying recommendations of persons under consideration for appointment to the Faculty at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor. To formulate a committee recommendation regarding the proposed academic rank and tenured appointment, if tenured status is proposed. Upon request from a unit search committee and the unit head, the Promotion and Tenure Committee may give feedback to that unit on the credentials and accompanying recommendations of persons under consideration for appointment to the Faculty at ranks lower than Associate Professor; but, this is considered exceptional rather than standard procedure.
E. To review, upon request, the materials submitted at the departmental level for third-year review by a tenure-track faculty member and provide advisory feedback from the committee as to the progress of the faculty member toward tenure attainment.
F. To review, upon request, the academic ranks of a faculty member to evaluate the presence of inequity when rank for an individual appears too low in terms of the individual’s competence and performance relative to his/her unit’s criteria and prevailing standards within the College. The faculty member initiates such reviews; however, peers and/or administrative faculty in the College may suggest to a faculty member that such a review be undertaken. Should the committee determine that a case of apparent inequity exists, the committee then has the responsibility of contacting the unit head to review the matter. If, after such review with the unit head, the committee remains convinced that an inequity exists, the committee has the authority to initiate a recommendation for promotion in rank. In such cases, the unit is required to develop a recommendation for the faculty member in question, whether positive or negative, following the usual procedures established by the unit and the College Promotion and Tenure committees with respect to promotion in rank.

4.5.2 Membership

B. The members are elected by the Faculty of the College from a ballot that shall consist of at least *two nominees from each unit who were selected according to that unit’s guidelines for selection of nominees. The elected faculty may not be unit heads. The elected members shall serve no more than two consecutive terms. The alternate shall be the person receiving the second highest number of votes.

C. The committee chair and recorder shall be elected annually by the members at the first meeting. It is recommended that the committee chair will have served one year on the committee.

D. Faculty members shall represent the College of Human Environmental Sciences and not their respective units.

*suspended in 2004 due to not enough faculty to provide names for the ballot.

4.5.3 Guidelines

A. The committee is an autonomous entity with no line of responsibility to any other office or committee.
B. The recommendations of the committee are independent of those of any other individual, office, or committee. They are forwarded to the Dean of the College, and then to the campus administration with those submitted by the Dean, the unit head, and/or the unit committee as one of a set of recommendations to be considered at the campus level.

C. Submission deadlines for dossiers to be considered by the College Promotion and Tenure Committee are established yearly consistent with the timelines set by the University calendar. Unit heads and unit Promotion and Tenure Committees are responsible for setting initial deadlines for submission of dossiers to be considered in a given academic year.

D. The committee notifies in writing the individual faculty member, the unit head, and the Dean of its recommendations within one week of the vote on the dossier.

E. All members of the committee shall be voting members. Each unit’s committee member shall assist the College committee in interpreting that unit’s guidelines for Promotion and Tenure during the deliberations of the College committee. Voting by the members is done in the context of responsibility to the entire College Faculty. A committee member may have only one vote on any given dossier, thus, if a committee member votes at the unit level, that member must abstain from voting at the College level and vice versa.

F. The agenda, frequency of meetings, location, and time shall be the responsibility of the chair on advice of the committee.

G. A quorum shall consist of the total membership of the committee.

H. Decisions of the committee shall be made by a simple majority vote.

I. The retiring chair shall convene the first meeting of the year, conduct the election of a new chair, review committee procedures, and provide the new chair with procedural records.

J. A College committee member who is being considered for promotion or tenure will not meet to review his/her own recommendation or the recommendation of a member of his/her family. In this circumstance, the alternate for the unit that the committee member represents shall represent the unit.

A. To develop selection criteria for scholarship recipients and other awardees.

B. To select scholarship recipients and awardees as appropriate.

   C. Notification of awards shall be recognized with a congratulatory letter to recipients from the Dean.

ARTICLE VI - REVISION OF FACULTY BYLAWS--
COLLEGE OF HUMAN ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCES

These Bylaws may be revised by the submission of the proposed revision in writing to the Faculty Council on College Policy for review and presentation to the College Faculty at the next scheduled meeting of the Faculty or at an agreed-upon meeting date scheduled for Bylaws revisions. A printed copy of the proposed revision and a ballot will be sent to each Faculty member. Ballots will be returned to the Faculty Council on College Policy within ten business days. A simple majority of the faculty [as defined above Article I] will be required for approval. Results of the vote will be reported by the Faculty Council on College Policy as soon as feasible and will be placed on record at the next meeting of the College Faculty.

Appendix B
College of Human Environmental Sciences
Criteria for Doctoral Faculty Membership

Approved by College of Home Economics Graduate Faculty on March 31, 1977
Reaffirmed by Human Environmental Sciences Graduate Faculty on July 14, 1989

Preamble
Preparation and defense of the dissertation constitutes an important learning experience for candidates for the doctoral degree, a major requirement of the doctoral program, and an opportunity for making a significant contribution to the body of knowledge in the candidate’s discipline. Given the importance of the matter, sophistication in both subject matter and research methodology is essential. Therefore, it is imperative that faculty who are elected to serve as dissertation supervisors be individuals who have demonstrated the technical expertise, commitment, and professional maturity necessary to perform effectively in that role. The primary consideration in election of an individual to the Doctoral Faculty is the potential that the individual will perform that role competently. It is in the spirit of this principle that the following criteria for membership on the Doctoral Faculty are employed by the College of Human Environmental Sciences.

Membership Criteria
The following College criteria are closely similar to, and are intended to be used in conjunction with, the criteria for the campus (9/16/76). These College criteria were approved by the Human Environmental Sciences Graduate Faculty on March 31, 1977.

1. The general criterion of membership on the campus Graduate Faculty is reaffirmed by the College as a minimum criterion. Application for Graduate Faculty and for Doctoral Faculty may be made simultaneously.

2. The candidate must possess an earned doctorate in most cases. Exceptions may be made in cases where the candidate has demonstrated “the equivalent in professional achievement.”

3. Significant achievement in research, scholarly, or creative activities which demonstrates mature, sustained, independent work consonant with recognized national professional standards. Candidates may present evidence of:
   a. publications* such as articles, monographs, books, chapters in books, prepared papers for national or regional symposia, service as editor of conference or symposium proceedings; *Normally, two single-authored, research-based articles in refereed journals of recognized high quality; authorship of an appropriate major and refereed book; or one single-authored, research-based refereed article and one professionally juried creative work in exhibits of recognized high quality within the five years immediately prior to application are required. Deviations from this norm are possible but require adequate supporting rationale from the department or school. Co-authorships or co-artists are appropriate but require definition of the candidate’s contribution to the work. Publications or creative works drawn essentially from the nominee’s doctoral dissertation or terminal degree work would not ordinarily be counted.
   b. current participation in research, scholarly, or creative activity as principal investigator or artist that involved the individual in maintaining up-to-date involvement in his/her... special field and with the leaders likewise involved, such as grants, significant participation in the research aspects of a regional research committee, service on the editorial board of a refereed professional journal in the individual’s field; and

b. professional recognition for research, scholarly, or creative activities by national/international organizations closely related to the individual’s field, such as receipt of research or study-leave fellowships, diplomat status in a professional organization, relevant involvement with national professional committees or organizations, receipt of awards or prizes, etc.

4. Current participation in a graduate program. Primary indices of eligibility include participation in a doctoral program as follows:
   a. dissertation involvement as a co-advisor or significant input as a dissertation committee member at MU or at another college or university; and
   b. dissertation advisor of students who completed the doctoral degree at another institution.

5. Other types of involvement in graduate programs that merit consideration include:
   a. major advisor for at least two students receiving M.S. or M.A. degrees wherein a thesis was required;
   b. teaching graduate courses (7000 and 9000* level at MU) for two or more years at this or another college or university; and
   c. election or appointment to relevant committees, either on or off campus, that reflect the candidate’s professional maturity in relation to graduate or research program, such as the Graduate Faculty Senate, graduate program review teams, etc.

*Course numbering changed from 300-400 with the implementation of myZou (revised 12-15-2008).

Chapter 340: Employee Absences

340.070 Faculty Leave
Bd. Min. 1-31-08; Amended 02.06.09.

A. Professional Leave - Within the specifications described below, each campus will develop an application and review process to approve leaves and stipulate the duration (not to exceed one year) and support associated for each leave aligned with institutional priorities and commensurate with available resources. All faculty members who accept a paid leave must state their intention to return to the University for the same amount of time they plan to be gone. Return of the faculty member for such period of time does not guarantee that the period of such leave shall be taken into account as service credit for purposes of the University's Retirement, Disability, and Death Benefit Plan. Exemptions to returning to the University at the conclusion of the leave can only be granted by the president upon recommendation of the chancellor. Additionally, all faculty members must file a report on the accomplishments during the leave period as specified by their chancellor or chancellor's designee.

1. Research Leave. Tenured, tenure-track, and full-time, ranked non-tenure track research faculty members with established scholarly, artistic or research records are eligible to apply for a research leave. A research leave may be taken for a period of time up to a full year. If a faculty member receives an external fellowship or grant support for a research leave, the University may supplement such support to provide full regular salary; if such external support is not received, the University may provide full regular salary. Additional travel funds and leave related expenses may be provided as deemed appropriate.

2. Development Leave. Tenured, tenure-track and full-time, ranked non-tenure track faculty members are eligible to apply for a development leave to pursue personal, professional, instructional, or administrative development. Development leave may be taken for a period of time up to a full year. If a faculty member receives external fellowship or grant support for a development leave, the University may supplement such support to provide full regular salary; if such external support is not received, the University may provide full regular salary. Additional travel funds and leave related expenses may be provided as deemed appropriate.

3. Sabbatical Leave. Tenured faculty members are eligible to apply for a sabbatical leave after six or more years of service, and can reapply for subsequent sabbatical leaves six years after the prior sabbatical leave. Sabbatical leaves may be taken for a period of time up to a full year. A faculty member on a sabbatical leave will receive up to one-half their regular annual salary. Additional travel funds and leave related expenses may be provided as deemed appropriate.

B. Personal Leave - Within the specifications described below, each campus will develop an application and review process to approve personal leaves and stipulate the duration (not to exceed one year) and support associated for each leave.

1. Leave of Absence. Faculty members may apply for a personal leave without pay. A leave of absence may be granted in cases of exceptional personal or institutional reasons, such as medical leave beyond the requirements of the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA). A leave of absence without pay may be granted for a period not to exceed one year and may not extend past the ending date of the faculty member's appointment. Any extension of the one year limit must be approved by the chancellor.

2. Family and Medical Leave.
   a. Summary: FMLA is a federal law that requires an employer to provide eligible employees with the right to take a leave of absence for family or medical reasons, and leave for military families while maintaining job protection.
   b. Eligibility: Any faculty member who has been employed by the University for a total of at least 12 months at the time of the leave of absence, and who has worked at least 1250 hours in the 12-month period preceding the leave is eligible for a family and medical leave.
c. General Leave:

(1) The University will provide up to 12 work weeks of leave within any 12-month period for the birth of a faculty member's child(ren); the adoption of a child by a faculty member, or official placement of a child with a faculty member for foster care (leaves for birth or adoption must be taken within 12 months of the event); the care of a son, daughter, spouse or parent (not parent-in-law) having a serious health condition; and the incapacity of a faculty member as a result of a serious health condition. Leave for the care of an adult son or daughter (at least 18 years old) is not covered unless required as a result of "mental or physical disability" as those terms are defined under the Americans with Disabilities Act.

(2) The University requires a 30-day notice if the leave is foreseeable. For unforeseen circumstances, the University requires as much notice as is practicable.

(3) The University requires the health care provider to certify the necessity of the medical leave. Medical leave will be limited to the duration of the serious health condition, as defined by FMLA. A faculty member may take intermittent leave or leave on a reduced work schedule if medically necessary for his/her own serious health condition or the serious health condition of an immediate family member. Intermittent leave may also be taken for covered service member leave or a qualifying exigency. A faculty member taking intermittent leave must make a reasonable effort to schedule such leave so as not to unduly disrupt University operations. Intermittent leave is not available for birth, adoption, or foster care. A health care provider's certification will be required for return to work from the faculty member's own serious health condition.

(4) Faculty members who take family and medical leave, either paid or unpaid, shall not, because of such leave, be assigned heavier work load or be otherwise discriminated against.

d. Qualifying Exigency Leave: The University will provide up to 12 work weeks of leave within any 12-month period for a qualifying exigency. A qualifying exigency arises out of the fact that the faculty member's spouse, son, daughter, or parent has been notified of an impending call or order to federal active duty in the Reserve or National Guard. Qualifying exigency leave may be taken for an adult son or daughter, including the eligible faculty member's biological, adopted or foster child, stepparent and legal ward. The University may require a copy of the applicable military member's active duty orders and a certification providing the appropriate facts related to the qualifying exigency.

e. Covered Service Member Leave: An eligible faculty member who is the spouse, son, daughter, parent, or blood relative of a covered service member who is recovering from a serious illness or injury sustained in the line of duty on active duty and is actively receiving medical treatment, is entitled to up to 26 weeks of leave in a single 12-month period to care for the service member. The University requires medical certification from the military that the service member is recovering from a serious injury or illness sustained in the line of duty on active duty and is actively receiving medical treatment.

f. Paid Family and Medical Leave: A tenured, or tenure-track, or full-time, named non-tenure track faculty member who is eligible for family and medical leave will be paid, up to 12 weeks, during any portion of such leave that occurs during the faculty member’s normally scheduled work duties. Paid family and medical leaves cannot exceed more than two 12-week paid leaves within a six-year period. Additional leaves during any six-year period will be unpaid. However, if such faculty member is covered by another approved University vacation/sick leave policy, the provisions of such vacation/sick leave policy shall apply in determining the extent to which the family and medical leave shall be paid.

g. Unpaid Family and Medical Leave: All faculty members eligible for family and medical leave not listed as entitled to paid leave shall be entitled to such leave without pay unless they are covered by another approved University vacation/sick leave policy in which event the provisions of such vacation/sick leave policy shall apply.

h. Maximum Leave: The maximum leave permitted during a 12-month period is 12 weeks for eligible faculty under all general and qualifying exigency leaves (used independently or in combination). The maximum leave permitted during a 12-month period for covered service member leave is 26 weeks for eligible faculty, which includes the 12 weeks of general or qualifying exigency leave if needed in the same 12-month period.

C. Military Leave. See Human Resource Manual for procedures associated with a military leave.

D. Extension of Probationary Periods - For tenure-track faculty members who take a family and medical leave in excess of six weeks, the probationary period will be extended for a period of one year with a maximum of two one-year extensions during the probationary period. The extension of the probationary period does not preclude a tenure-track faculty member from making a request for a promotion and tenure decision at an earlier date. Tenure-track faculty members who take a family and medical leave may choose to decline the extension and retain their original probationary time period. Any other extension of the probationary period is left to the discretion of the chancellor.

E. Definition of Full-time, Ranked, Non-Tenure (NTT) Faculty. For purposes of this policy, there shall be four main types of full-time, ranked NTT faculty. Each should have primary responsibility in a single area: teaching, or research, or clinical practice, or extension activities. The titles should identify the area. Within each area, there shall be three ranks:

1. Research faculty (Research Professor, Associate Research Professor, Assistant Research Professor)
2. Teaching faculty (Teaching Professor, Associate Teaching Professor, Assistant Teaching Professor)

3. Clinical/Professional Practice faculty (Clinical Professor, Associate Clinical Professor, Assistant Clinical Professor or Professional Practice Professor, Associate Professional Practice Professor, Assistant Professional Practice Professor)

4. Extension faculty (Extension Professor, Associate Extension Professor, Assistant Extension Professor)

Bylaws revision documentation: 12-15-2008

   - Academic Status and Appeals
   - Faculty Council on College Policy
   - Graduate Faculty Council (responsible for Graduate Fellowships)
   - HES Promotion and Tenure
   - Student Scholarships (name change from Student Recognition and Awards)

2. Change the name of the Student Recognition and Awards Committee to Student Scholarships Committee. (passed 100%):

3. Recommend elimination of the following committees:
   - HES Curriculum – Assign responsibility to unit head, with input from unit faculty and HES Student Services Director
   - Faculty and Alumni Recognition -- Assign responsibility to the HES Development Office and Director of External Relations who can seek faculty input as appropriate

4. Recommend rotation of responsibility for Margaret Mangel Lectureship with each unit. Random selection of unit in first year and alphabetically in subsequent years.

A unit will be randomly selected in the first year by an unbiased person drawing a slip of paper with a unit name on it from a container.

Non-Tenure Track Promotion Guidelines – Tenured and Tenure Track Faculty and Non-Tenure Track Faculty allowed to vote.
Guidelines were revised to bring the HES NTT Guidelines into compliance with MU and System guidelines. The most significant change is in the process at the College level. The guidelines reflect that NTT Faculty be reviewed for promotion by a majority of non-tenure track faculty as described below.

College Promotion Review. A majority of the faculty members for Non-Tenure Track faculty review shall be Non-Tenure Track faculty members, at the promotable or above level, supplemented by a sub-set of the regular P&T committee, chosen by that committee. The Non-Tenure Track faculty shall elect the Non-Tenure Track faculty members for the Promotion Review Committee from among the available Non-Tenure Track faculty at the promotable or above level. Until there exists a sufficient number of Non-Tenure Track faculty within the college to serve on the Promotion Review Committee, the regular P&T committee will secure Non-Tenure Track faculty members at the promotable or above level, from outside the college, to meet the above requirement.

The HES Non-Tenure Track faculty Promotion Review Committee receives their charge from the Dean and the files of Non-Tenure Track faculty promotion candidates. The HES Non-Tenure Track faculty Promotion Review Committee reviews the portfolios/dossiers. If questions arise, the committee may request additional information from the unit leader. Such additional information may be given with or without the candidate being present; however, the candidate has the option to be present.

6. Concerning the third-year review. FCCP recommends changing the Bylaws to add a duty to the Promotion and Tenure Committee Duties and Responsibilities (inserted as E. and noted in red below).

4.7 Promotion and Tenure Committee
4.7.1 Duties and Responsibilities
A. To help ensure fair and equitable treatment of faculty with respect to matters involving promotion and/or tenure.
B. To help safeguard the interests of the College and the integrity of rank and tenure standards.
C. To review the credentials and accompanying recommendations of faculty already on appointment who are being considered for promotion in rank or appointment to tenure status and formulate a committee recommendation in support of, or in opposition to, the proposed action.
D. To review the credentials and accompanying recommendations of persons under consideration for appointment to the Faculty at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor. To formulate a committee recommendation regarding the proposed academic rank and tenured appointment, if tenured status is proposed. Upon request from a unit search committee and the unit head, the Promotion and Tenure Committee may give feedback to that unit on the credentials and accompanying recommendations of persons under consideration for appointment to the Faculty at ranks lower than Associate Professor; but, this is considered exceptional rather than standard procedure.
E. To review, upon request, the materials submitted at the departmental level for third-year review by a tenure-track faculty member and provide advisory feedback from the committee as to the progress of the faculty member toward tenure attainment.
F. To review, upon request, the academic ranks of a faculty member to evaluate the presence of inequity when rank for an individual appears too low in terms of the individual’s competence and performance relative to his/her unit’s criteria and prevailing standards within the College. The faculty member initiates such reviews; however, peers and/or administrative faculty in the College may suggest to a faculty member that such a review be undertaken.
Should the committee determine that a case of apparent inequity exists, the committee then has the responsibility of contacting the unit head to review the matter. If, after such review with the unit head, the committee remains convinced that an inequity exists, the committee has the authority to initiate a recommendation for promotion in rank. In such cases, the unit is required to develop a recommendation for the faculty member in question, whether positive or negative, following the usual procedures established by the unit and the College Promotion and Tenure committees with respect to promotion in rank.

G. To hear appeals from faculty who may wish to appeal recommendations of the College Promotion and Tenure Committee with respect to promotion and/or tenure at the College level. (Across the University system, appeals of recommendations are heard at the same level and by the same committee that made the recommendation.)
